How to Download an App for Android

In order to download an app, you have to have a Gmail account, which is also called a Google account. If you don't already have one, you can go to seniorplanet.org/capitalone and find the video: Sign Up for Gmail.

With your Google account information (Gmail and password) you can head over to the Google Play App.

Before you get started, you can watch the video Download an App. The steps for downloading any app are the same. Find the video at seniorplanet.org/capitalone.

- 1 If this is the first time you're using the Google Play App, you'll be asked to sign in. Your username is your Gmail address and the password is the same as the one you use to sign in to Gmail.
- 2 Use the search bar to search for an app. Let's search for the PBS app.

- 3 When you search for an app, a list of options will appear. In this case, all the apps with PBS in the name come up. Verify which app you want to download by checking the name and logo. It's usually among the first 1-3 results. When ready, tap the icon to learn more and install.

- 4 Tap Install.

- 5 Return to the home screen by tapping the home button.

- 6 Look for the app's icon on your homescreen. You may have to swipe to the left to the next screen to find it.
