“A street art tour in Praça Mauá”

A LIVE, VIRTUAL TOUR TO
RIO DE JANEIRO, BRAZIL

Famous Foods

FEIJOADA (BEAN STEW)

It is a hearty black bean stew recipe made with meat, black beans, garlic, and tomatoes, and it's the national dish of Brazil. Served over rice, it's a filling meal to warm you up on a chilly winter day. It also pairs well with collard greens.

BOLINHO DE BACALHAU (COD CAKES)

The codfish cake is mostly eaten during New Year's or any celebrations. The lightly fried cakes or croquettes are typically made from a mixture of bacalhau (dried salted codfish), potatoes, eggs, onion and parsley or cilantro. They're crispy on the outside with a creamy interior.

OSWALDO ARANHA FILET

This dish was born in the city of Rio. It's said that the politician Oswaldo Aranha regularly visited a restaurant in Lapa and always ordered the same meal: a well seasoned filet with fried garlic accompanied by white rice, fried Portuguese potatoes and eggs farofa.

Mix Your Own

SUBURBIO DO RIO COCKTAIL

INGREDIENTS:

- 2 tbsp (1 oz) Torani Strawberry or Raspberry Syrup
- 2 tbsp (1 oz) lime juice
- 3 tbsp (1 ½ oz) Cachaca
- 2 tbsp (1 oz) Guarana Antarctica or lemon-lime soda

DIRECTIONS:

- Shake and strain ingredients into tall glass. Fizz with Guarana Antarctica or lemon-lime soda.

Famous Drinks

ÁGUA DE COCO (COCONUT DRINK)

It is a wonderfully refreshing, tasty, and healthy. It is packed with potassium, sodium, calcium, and has zero fat. After relishing this slightly sweet drink, ask for the coconut to be cut open and enjoy the coconut meat inside.

CAJUÍNA

A non-alcoholic beverage made from cashews. The cashew juice is usually filtered, then sterilized and clarified. The drink will be typically served cold and is quite a delicious refreshing beverage.

MATE TEA

A caffeinated infusion made from the leaves of the native yerba mate plant, the other with lemon juice. "Ohla o mate!" lookout for vendors shouting these words as you stroll along Copacabana Beach

Make Your Own

ISRAELI'S SALAD

Ingredients:

- 250g / 8,8 oz of unsalted codfish
- 200g / 7oz of potatoes
- ½ onion
- 1 tablespoon of shredded parsley
- 3 to 4 eggs
- 1 small goblet of Port wine
- Nutmeg
- Frying oil
- salt and pepper

Directions:

1. Boil the potatoes with the skin. When the potatoes are cooked, peel them and shred them until it becomes a puree.
2. Boil and drain the codfish. Take the skin and the bones out and then rub it in a clean and thick kitchen cloth until it becomes shredded.
3. Place the potatoes puree, the codfish, the onion, the parsley, the Port wine, and the spices. One by one incorporate the eggs until you have consistent dough – it should not be too liquid as you will fry it afterward.
4. Use two tablespoons to shape it into a small cake with the dough approximately like the above picture. Fry it on a large pan, at high temperature, until it gets a wonderful golden color.

Rio de Janeiro

THE CITY
